

HLS Cookbook

A collection from the Hot Lunch Society

Sample edition · June 12, 2026

Acknowledgements

This cookbook was assembled from recipes contributed by the Hot Lunch Society. Thank you to every cook, taster, reviewer, and lunch-table storyteller who made these pages possible.

Internal Microsoft project. Recipes are provided by contributors for community use. Please verify allergens, dietary needs, and food-safety requirements before serving.

Contents

Chicken Adobo 5

Mains

Chicken Adobo

A comforting Filipino braise of chicken, vinegar, soy, garlic, and bay leaves. The sauce reduces to a glossy, tangy-salty glaze that is perfect over steamed rice.

Contributor Ana Reyes
Course Mains
Prep 15 min
Total 60 min

Cuisine Filipino
Dietary gluten-free, dairy-free
Cook 45 min
Serves 4

Ingredients

Chicken

900 g (2 lb) bone-in chicken thighs, skin-on 120 ml (1/2 cup) soy sauce
120 ml (1/2 cup) cane vinegar
10 cloves garlic, smashed
3 bay leaves
1 tsp black peppercorns, cracked

To Serve

4 cups steamed jasmine rice
2 scallions, thinly sliced

Steps

1. Combine soy sauce, vinegar, garlic, bay leaves, and peppercorns in a wide pot. Add chicken and turn to coat. Rest for 20 minutes while the rice cooks.
2. Bring the pot to a simmer over medium heat. Cover, reduce heat, and cook until the chicken is tender, about 30 minutes.
3. Uncover and simmer briskly, turning the chicken once or twice, until the sauce reduces and lightly glazes the meat.
4. Serve chicken and sauce over rice with scallions.

Nutrition per serving

Calories: 410 kcal

Protein: 32 g

Fat: 22 g

Carbs: 14 g